

Baby Shark is Going to School at Home.

Jodi Farrington

Lake Forest School District

Baby Shark likes to go to school.

But he can't go right now, which makes Baby Shark sad.

This is because there is a virus called COVID-19.

Stay away virus!
You can't get me!

There are a lot of sharks in the school which might cause them to get sick.

They could share coughs and sneezes and that would not be good.

Don't share germs

Wear your mask

Social Distance

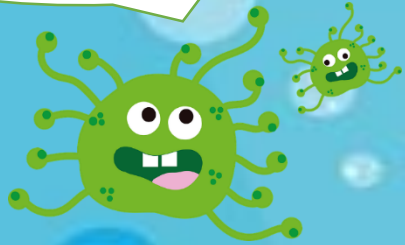

Wash your hands

Let's stay nealthy,

For now, Baby Shark will stay home so everyone will stay healthy.

Let's get out of here. This is no fun.

You can't get us sick! We are safe at home!

Being at home, Baby Shark's schedule has changed. Baby Shark will do school work on the computer.

While Baby Shark is at home, he can practice washing his hands, just like you.

Baby Shark also needs to remember to cover his sneezes in his fin. You can use your arm or a tissue.

If Baby Shark needs to cough, he will cough in his fin. You can use your elbow.

Because Baby Shark and his friends are home, they are practicing social distancing. This helps everyone stay safe and healthy.

Let's FaceTime!

6 Feet Apart

Sounds like fun!

Baby Shark's teachers and friends miss him so much! Your teachers and friends miss you too!

We miss you!

But Baby Shark knows, when it is safe enough for everyone, he can go back to school and that makes him happy!
