Note about Parent Survey Results

This year, the My Perspective Parent Survey was shortened significantly and administered to parents of students in just four targeted grades (gr. 2, 5, 7, and 9). In previous years, parents of all students (all grades) in the district received the survey. This reduction in both the parent sample and the number of survey questions was done in order to reduce the time/effort burden on both schools and parents in administering and completing the survey. However, these changes resulted in an inability to reduce the survey to more than just a single factor (or general conceptual area of functioning). As a result, no factor graphs are presented for the parent version of the survey. Parent Survey results this year are limited to a question-by-question summary of response percentages, which can be found in the Excel reports also available on the Monitoring Progress link of the Christina School District website.
Teacher Survey Factor Ratings
Note about Teacher Survey Results

This year, the My Perspective Teacher Survey was shortened and response options were re-worded on a number of survey questions. Therefore, this year’s results may not be directly comparable to the results of the 2012 version of the Teacher Survey. In addition, this year’s survey was administered to teachers only, whereas in previous years, surveys were taken by all staff, including non-instructional, paraprofessionals, and school administrators. The result of these modifications was a reduction in the number of factors (conceptual areas of functioning) that could be identified. As a result, this year’s factors are not readily comparable to last year’s. Please refer to the question-by-question report also available on the Monitoring Progress link of the Christina School District’s website for more direct comparisons to item-specific response patterns from previous years.

Student Survey Factor Ratings
Note about Student Survey Results

This year, the My Perspective Student Survey was shortened significantly and administered to students in three targeted grades (gr. 5, 7, and 9), with the exception of K-12 schools and special programs with very small per-grade enrollment, which were asked to survey students in additional grades. The reduction in the number of survey questions was done in order to reduce the time/effort burden on schools in administering the survey. In addition, the language used in a number of the survey questions was modified on the 2013 survey. As a result, factors reported on the slides that follow are fewer than reported in 2012 and may not be readily comparable to those reported on the 2012 factor graph report. Please refer to the question-by-question report also available on the Monitoring Progress link of the Christina School District’s website for more direct comparisons to item-specific response patterns from previous years.

School / Staff Support

* There were too few student respondents (n<10) in the targeted grades (5, 7, and 9) at Douglass Alternative and Sarah Pyle Acad. to report mean factor scores for these two schools.

Rigor of Instruction

(applicable to 7th and 9th graders only)

* There were too few student respondents (n<10) in the targeted grades (7 and 9) at Douglass Alternative and Sarah Pyle Acad. to report mean factor scores for these two schools. All elementary schools are excluded from this factor, since 5th grade students were not asked to respond to these questions.
* There were too few student respondents (n<10) in the targeted grades (5, 7, and 9) at Douglass Alternative and Sarah Pyle Acad. to report mean factor scores for these two schools.
